

Housing and Benefits

You may receive claims for housing and benefits involving children in private fostering arrangements.

Consider:

Has a new child joined the family?

Is the relationship between the child and the carer clear?

Is there frequent movement of children in and out of the household?

Consider that this may be a private fostering arrangement that should be referred to your local children's services.